

Foreign Language Sequence Options

All students who did not complete four (4) years of the same foreign language in high school must complete a foreign language to graduate from the College of Journalism and Mass Communications (CoJMC).

You have two (2) options to choose from to fulfill this graduation requirement.

Same language as high school	101 Beginning I	102 Beginning II	201 Intermediate I	202 Intermediate II
Start a new language	101 Beginning I	102 Beginning II

If you would like to continue with the same language you learned in high school, you will need to take the Modern Language Placement Exam to be placed in the appropriate course level based on your current proficiency in the language. You would start in the class level determined by your score, and then you must complete through the 202 level class.

If you would like to start a new language, then you would automatically start in the 101 level class. You would only be required to take 101 and 102 of the new language.

UNL Language Options
ASL	Arabic	Chinese	Czech	French	German	Japanese	Latin	Russian	Spanish
Sometimes UNL will offer language courses in other languages; however, it can be unpredictable what they will be and to what level they will go to. We can discuss possible options at your academic advising appointment.

All 101 and 102 language classes at UNL are 5 credits and meet every day of the week, except for American Sign Language (ASL) which is 4 credits at the 101 and 102 level. However, ASL can be difficult to get into and most students aren't able to get into this class until junior or senior year. This course can be found under the course code SLPA when searching in MyRED.
