

Sunday, May 8, 2022

Motion

ID:

77

From:

Executive Committee

Motion:

To create a college awards program

Does this motion need to be prioritized?

No

Policy (for policy items)

College Awards Programs.pdf

Award Program Proposal

Timeline:

- Nominations will open in Mid-Feb. and be accepted until March 31.
- Selections will be made in April
- Recipients will be announced at the end of year faculty/staff event each year.
- An award does not have to be given each year

Excellence in Teaching Award

- Description: The College of Journalism and Mass Communications Excellence in Teaching Award is presented in honor and recognition of a meritorious record of excellence in teaching and/or innovation related to a teaching program.
- Eligibility: Any individual who holds a full-time faculty appointment (including lecturers, tenure-track faculty, and professors of practice) in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications at the time of nomination.
- Nominations: Recipients can be nominated by faculty, staff, students, alumni or others with an interest in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications. Self-nominations are permitted. The nominator shall submit a letter of nomination, maximum of 2 pages, and no more than 3, one-page, letters of support.
- Selection: Selections will be made by the committee composed of four students, one from each major and four alumni, one from each major.
- Award: The recipient shall receive a $250 award.

Excellence in Research/Creative Activity

- Description: The College of Journalism and Mass Communications Excellence in Research/Creative Activity Award is presented in honor and recognition of a meritorious record of excellence in research and/or creative activity.
- Eligibility: Any individual who holds a full-time faculty appointment (including lecturers, tenure-track faculty, and professors of practice) and has research as part of their apportionment in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications at the time of nomination.
- Nominations: Recipients can be nominated by faculty, staff, students, alumni or others with an interest in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications. Self-nominations are permitted. The nominator shall submit a letter of nomination, maximum of 2 pages, and no more than 3, one-page, letters of support.
- Selection: Selections will be made by the committee composed of four students, one from each major and four alumni, one from each major.
- Award: The recipient shall receive a $250 award.

Excellence in Industry or Community Engagement

- Description: The College of Journalism and Mass Communications Excellence in Industry or Community Engagement Award is presented in honor and recognition of a meritorious record of industry or community engagement that has an impact beyond the university.
- Eligibility: Any full-time faculty or staff member in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications, including staff who may have a primary or partial appointment in another unit but whose primary responsibilities are within the college.
- Nominations: Recipients can be nominated by faculty, staff, students, alumni or others with an interest in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications. Self-nominations are permitted. The nominator shall submit a letter of nomination, maximum of 2 pages, and no more than 3, one-page, letters of support.
- Selection: Selections will be made by the committee composed of four students, one from each major and four alumni, one from each major.
- Award: The recipient shall receive a $250 award.

Excellence in Student Advocacy and Support

- Description: The College of Journalism and Mass Communications Excellence in Student Advocacy and Support is presented in honor and recognition of a meritorious record of service to students in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications.
- Eligibility: Any full-time faculty or staff in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications, including staff who may have a primary or partial appointment in another unit but whose primary responsibilities are within the college.
- Nominations: Recipients can be nominated by faculty, staff, students, alumni or others with an interest in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications. Self-nominations are permitted. The nominator shall submit a letter of nomination, maximum of 2 pages, and no more than 3, one-page, letters of support.
- Selection: Selections will be made by the committee composed of four students, one from each major and four alumni, one from each major.
- Award: The recipient shall receive a $250 award.

Staff Excellence Award

- Description: The College of Journalism and Mass Communications Staff Excellence Award is presented in honor of a staff member who routinely demonstrates excellence in the execution of their duties.
- Eligibility: Any full-time staff member in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications, including staff who may have a primary or partial appointment in another unit but whose primary responsibilities are within the college.
- Nominations: Recipients can be nominated by faculty, staff, students, alumni or others with an interest in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications. Self-nominations are permitted. The nominator shall submit a letter of nomination, maximum of 2 pages, and no more than 3, one-page, letters of support.
- Selection: Selections will be made by the committee composed of four students, one from each major and four alumni, one from each major.
- Award: The recipient shall receive a $250 award.

Inclusive Excellence Award

- Description: The College of Journalism and Mass Communications Inclusive Excellence Award is presented in honor of a faculty or staff member who has created a climate that emphasizes, prioritizes, and expands inclusive excellence and diversity in the college.
- Eligibility: Any full-time faculty or staff member in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications, including staff who may have a primary or partial appointment in another unit but whose primary responsibilities are within the college.
- Nominations: Recipients can be nominated by faculty, staff, students, alumni or others with an interest in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications. Self-nominations are permitted. The nominator shall submit a letter of nomination, maximum of 2 pages, and no more than 3, one-page, letters of support.
- Selection: Selections will be made by the committee composed of four students, one from each major and four alumni, one from each major.
- Award: The recipient shall receive a $250 award.

Friend of the College Award

- Description: The College of Journalism and Mass Communications Friend of the College Award honors a part-time faculty member, professional-in-residence, guest speaker or other individual who has made an impact significant impact on the college's students, faculty or staff.
- Eligibility: Any individual who has engaged with the College of Journalism and Mass Communications.
- Nominations: Recipients can be nominated by faculty, staff, students, alumni or others with an interest in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications. Self-nominations are permitted. The nominator shall submit a letter of nomination, maximum of 2 pages, and no more than 3, one-page, letters of support.
- Selection: Selections will be made by the committee composed of four students, one from each major and four alumni, one from each major.
- Award: The recipient shall receive a $250 award.

To Infinity and Beyond Award

- Description: The College of Journalism and Mass Communications To Infinity and Beyond Award is presented in honor of a faculty or staff member who epitomizes the college values of
 - Our students do from day one
 - We solve real problems
 - We believe in hard work
 - We pursue truth
 - We nurture curious and creative minds
 - We are an inclusive community
 - Our professions are ever-changing
 - Our graduates thrive

- Eligibility: Any full-time faculty or staff member in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications, including staff who may have a primary or partial appointment in another unit but whose primary responsibilities are within the college.
- Nominations: Recipients can be nominated by faculty, staff, students, alumni or others with an interest in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications. Self-nominations are permitted. The nominator shall submit a letter of nomination, maximum of 2 pages, and no more than 3, one-page, letters of support.
- Selection: Selections will be made by the committee composed of four students, one from each major and four alumni, one from each major.
- Award: The recipient shall receive a $250 award and statue of Buzz Lightyear.